MORRIS A. HYMES, JR.

Chief, Information Assurance Division
Office of Policy (I4)
National Security Agency

EDUCATION:

- BS Mechanical Engineering – University of Maryland – 1981
- MS Engineering Administration – George Washington University – 1988
- Certified, Cryptologic Engineer (1989)

WORK ASSIGNMENTS WITH NSA:

- Deputy Chief of Staff – Office of China/Korea
- Research Technology Officer
- Chief, Information Assurance Key Management Services and Workstation Technology Division
- ASDC3I Information Assurance Senior Staff Officer
- Information Assurance System Security Engineer
- Acquisition Program Manager, Cellular Telephone Communications Systems

PRIOR JOB HIGHLIGHTS/ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Spearheaded Research Collaboration Activities in the Intelligence Community
- Awarded the contract for the Class 4 DOD Public Key Infrastructure
- Managed the development of the Public key Certificate Authority
- Components for DOD's Defense Messaging System (DMS)
- Led DOD towards adoption of two Information Assurance Policies establishing a Department-wide Public Key Infrastructure and moving information between SECRET and below networks.
- Delivered NSA's first secure cellular telephone device (1984)